

I'm not robot  reCAPTCHA

Continue

Best guided walking tours rome

With centuries of history and a vibrant present, Rome is full of bustling cafes, narrow alleys and quiet churches to discover. Walking through the streets and squares of the city is the best way to experience the Eternal City - here are your options. HighlightsWalking tours venture from a beaten tourist track to discover parts of the historic center that often go unnoticed. Many are led by art and history experts who add context to what is being considered. Guides have extensive knowledge of major attractions such as the Colosseum, the Roman Forum, and Vatican Museums. Tours range from 1.5 hours to full-day excursions, with most running for about three hours. Theme-themed walking tours Are a Great Theme is a great way to frame your visit and fully experience the sights most important to you. The photography tour allows 1 growing shutterbugs to see Rome through the camera lens, leaving travelers with some large shots of the city's iconic and lesser-known landmarks, while the ghost tour presents history of Roman history after dark. On the art and architecture of walking tours, expert guides can point out the specifics and offer additional information about well-known sites. Walking tours with Priority Sightseeing AccessWith long queues and often little time, many visitors to Rome choose tours where they can skip the line at the Colosseum or the Vatican Museums, where waiting times can reach up to three hours to enter. On a walking tour with priority access to the attractions, a local guide opens a tour group past the crowds to maximize the limited time in the city. Some even allow access to other closed areas, such as the Sistine Chapel, before it officially opens. Not packed on the bus. Not a herd with a group. A self-guided walk is the safest way to see the sights while watching SOCIAL DISTANCING! For ice cream lovers and dabblers this guide is a treasure chest of Rome's best ice cream shops. There are gelaterias all over the world. Many visitors to Rome have only a few days to explore the city. You have to do it for yourself to make the most of your time and find ice cream the locals eat. Often genuine... Of all the things Italy is best known for (cars, music, fashion, movies, etc.), food is undoubtedly at the top of the list. Rome may well not be all Italy, but no Italy is intact without Rome... And the Romans, like all their fellow Italians, love its fresco, hence the abundance... Rome is the Eternal City and, as such, the list of gift options available here is countless. Whether it's something edible, drinkable, wearable or eye-pleasing that you want - you'll find it all here in abundance. However, if time or budget is a factor, perhaps you can... Have Essentially 5 types of free tours in Rome and we let you know about your options, provide schedules, and explain what you will see on each tour. OVERVIEW AND GRAPHIC There are 5 types of free tours in Rome, one from Ancient Rome, the other center of Rome, the Vatican Museums and St. Peter's Basilica, which covers covers surroundings, as well as free food excursions. This model of free tours is technically free to accept and there is no obligation to pay anything at the end. However, they are popularly understood as pay-what-you-like tours. You can pay what you think your walk was worth or what you could afford at the end of the tour. Tip: We offer an AUDIO tour of the center of Rome under the guidance of GPS. According to online reviews, most participants contribute between 10 and 20 pounds per adult guide when they felt the tour was good. Almost all companies are locally owned, with larger outfits such as Sandemans missing from the market. There are many different free walking tours in Rome. While some focus on the area's ancient history, there are some that provide a closer look at downtown. In addition, if you want to learn more about the Trastevere area or the Jewish ghetto, there are also tours that cover these places as well. In addition to these places, you can also take a free tour of the Vatican Museums and one of St. Peter's Basilica. Finally, there is at least one free food tour you can consider if you are looking for the best eats in Rome. FREE ANCIENT ROME TOURS These free walking tours will cover notable historical sites that in some cases date back thousands of years. If you are interested in exploring the ancient history of Rome, these tours will give you a lot of information about how this city became home to one of the most wonderful empires in the world. Here are some of the ancient places you can expect to see on these tours: the Roman Palatine Hill Forum Colosseum Capitol Hill Circus Maximus and more! For more information, check out our self-guided tour of Roman Fori. Free tours will not include entry to any of the attractions listed above and cover them from the observation decks. You can buy tickets for them before or after the free tour. However, free tours cover areas usually not covered on paid tours, including the Imperial Roman Fori. Paid tours, on the other hand, all include tickets to the Colosseum, Forum, and Palatine Hill. Reservations are required for all tours. A free tour of New Rome will discover the history of the Roman Republic and Imperial Rome during this 2-hour free walking tour of the city's oldest places. This company has an overall rating of 4 1/2 out of 5 stars on TripAdvisor, and reviewers suggest that they provide tips to help you get inside popular attractions quickly, efficiently and at an affordable price. You can take this pay-per-view tour every day at 11am and they also offer a tour of the city centre at 4.50pm (4.50pm) on the same day! Find out more or book this tour. Reservations are not required. Ancient Rome Amedeo Tour It A walking tour takes you past some of the most historic places in Rome and it has a ranking of almost 5 out of 5 stars. Reviewers report that the Amedeo tour guide is ready to answer any question you might want about Rome, not the time to interact with every guest. You can take this 2 1/2 - 3-hour free walking tour daily at 9am. Reservations are not required. View the calendar above for the current schedule (which may be affected by the pandemic). Rick Steves' Ancient Rome Audio Tours Although this company does not offer to pay what you want to tour, they have several self-audio tours you can use that cover notable locations in ancient Rome. These audio tours are completely free to download and they come with maps that you can download to your smartphone so you can find your way around each site. Colosseum Audio Tour (i) Roman Forum Audio Tour Pantheon Audio Tour You will need to purchase a ticket to enter the Colosseum as this audio tour is conducted from the inside. If you prefer them in the form of a podcast, you can also download the Rick Steu these app to your smartphone using iTunes or Android. Paid Tours of Ancient Rome If you are looking for a tour that offers small group sizes, there are several paid tours you can take that you may want to consider. Unlike free tours, all of these tours include entrance to the Colosseum, Forum and Palatine Hill. Ticket prices range from 20 to 80 euros and last an average of 2-4 hours. Check out this list of paid tours of Ancient Rome to find a tour that matches your itinerary. FREE CENTRAL ROME TOURS These free walking tours focus on downtown Rome rather than structures like the Colosseum, the Roman Forum, Palatine Hill, and other sites south of the city. While some of the sites that you will see are very old, this type of tour is about how to help you become more familiar with the city and covering its history. If you are looking for an introductory tour that provides a glimpse into a wide range of attractions and historic attractions, central Rome tours are a great option. Here are some of the sites that you can expect to see on these outings: the Piazza Navon Pantheon Trevi Fountain of The Spanish Steps of Venice Square and more! Find out what you can see with our self-guided tour of Central Rome. To learn more about these locations and get help in finding your way around the city, consider one of the free walking tours listed below. GPS-Led Audio Tour Before we list live guide tours, if you are looking to explore on your own in this age of social distancing, then we recommend taking a look at the following resource. We offer a GPS audio tour of the city centre of Rome, explored, written and recorded by one of our own guides. Our tour starts on the Spanish Steps and visits some of Rome's main attractions, including most of the places listed above in the intro. Here's an example. Download our free walking app on (iTunes) or (Android). New Rome Free Tour This company offers a free tour of the city centre that covers some of the most notable or historical architecture and works of art you will find throughout Rome. Rome. The overall rating is 4 1/2 out of 5 stars, it is one of the most peer-reviewed tourist services in the entire city, and reviewers point out that they also provide tips on the best places to eat! Their 2-hour tour of the city centre is available daily at 4:50 p.m. (4:50 p.m.), which means you can enjoy both this walk and their tour of Ancient Rome on the same day! Reservations are not required. Book this tour or find out more. The Roman Fountains of Amedeo Tour there are many notable and historic fountains in Rome, and this pay-what-you-want walking tour covers some of the best examples located in the city centre. Amedeo's service is highly appreciated and reviewers point out that their guide is very attentive and will answer any question you may have. Typically, this 2 1/2 hour tour is available in English and Italian at 14:00 (2pm) every Sunday - Friday and in French every Thursday - Sunday at 10am. Reservations are not required. View the calendar above for the current schedule (which may be affected by the pandemic). TRASTEVERE - OLD JEWISH GHETTO Discover a side of Rome that you might not otherwise be able to visit on a tour of areas you don't normally visit on other tours. Trastevere is an area across the Tiber River, and in addition to visiting this place, you will also make a stop on Tiberin Island to see the area once known as the Old Jewish Ghetto. You can expect to visit the following places by taking one of these free walking tours: Trastevere Vicolo dell'Atleta Isola Tiberina Portico d'Ottavi Jewish Ghetto and more! If you want to learn more and see these areas for yourself, consider one of the tours listed below. We also have our own self-directed walk through the Old Jewish Ghetto. Maria Grazia In addition to their Best Rome tour, this company also offers a 2 1/2 hour tour that covers both trastevere and the Jewish ghetto. This service is very well priced at almost 5 out of 5 stars, and reviewers assume that their tour guide is very passionate about the history of these Roman areas. You can take this walking tour of English on Friday and Saturday at 12:30 p.m. Book a tour or find out more. Reservations are not required. This is also available in Italian at different times. Rick Steves' Audio Tours If you want to discover these areas at your own pace, Rick Steves offers 2 separate audio tours, one from Trastevere and one from the Old Jewish Ghetto. You can use your smartphone to download Rick Steve's app and listen to an audio tour with their service, or you can download the audio file and listen to it that way. There is also a map that you can download with each tour that will help you find your way around the city. Trastevere Walk Jewish Ghetto Walk Paid Tours Trastevere and Jewish Ghetto There Are a Whole Range services that cover Trastevere and Jewish neighborhoods. Whether you want to learn more about the area on foot, by bike, or on segway, there are several different tours to choose from In addition to these options, there are also some food tours in every place you can consider. Ticket prices usually range from 60 to 100 pounds or more, and many of these tours are also limited to smaller groups or completely private, allowing you to decide who joins you on the tour. Check out this list of paid Trastevere and Jewish ghetto tours to find out more and find a service that matches your itinerary. FREE VATICAN TOURS Although Vatican Museums require a ticket to enter, there are some audio tours you can use for free after entering the building. There is also at least one audio tour that covers St. Peter's Basilica as well (which is free to enter). Maria Grazia Is one of the only tours with a paid guide that focuses on the sights surrounding the Vatican. Although this free walking tour does not include entrance to the Vatican Museums or the Sistine Chapel, it enters and explore St. Peter's Basilica. You can take this tour in English every Tuesday and Thursday at 12pm. It is also available in Italian on Tuesday and Thursday at 9am. Book this tour or find out more. Rick Steves Audio Tours If you plan to visit either the Vatican Museums, the Sistine Chapel or St. Peter's Basilica, this company offers an audio tour of every location that is available either for download or through its app. In addition to Rick's audio tours, there are also maps that will help you find all the best artwork and historical sites in each building. The Vatican Museums Tour of the Sistine Chapel Tour of St. Peter's Tour Paid tours of the Vatican there are several paid tours for visitors who are looking for a tour or other kind of experience at the Vatican. Some of these excursions offer reserved entrance, others cover both the Vatican Museums and St. Peter's Basilica, and there are even early morning priority access tours you may want to consider. Ticket prices range from 20 to 60 pounds on average, and some tours are private or limited to small groups, so you can enjoy the trip without worrying about having to compete for attention from your guide. Look at this list of paid Vatican tours to find the right service for your needs. FREE ROME FOOD TOURS Currently, there is only one company offering free food tours in Rome, and they focus on three areas of the city: the Jewish Ghetto, Trastevere, and Monti. Each of these outlets includes at least 3-4 stops at large restaurants and food stores where you will find some of the best meals in town. The food you try on these tours varies quite a bit depending on what area they cover, but most of the excursions will cover some of the following options: Pizza Gelato Pies Prosciutto Parmigiano Reggiano and more! If you are looking for another option, consider our independent tour of Rome. New Rome Free Tours In addition to their free walking tours, this company also provides 2-hour pay-what-you-desire food tours that allow you to choose the dishes you try. Their Trastevere food tour is offered on Thursdays at 11am. You can also take their Old Jewish Ghetto food tour on Fridays at the same time. In addition, you can also consider their Monty Food tour on Mondays on Thursdays and Saturdays at 16:00 (4pm). It also runs Mondays at 11:00 a.m. Book one of these free food tours. Reservations are not required. Paid Rome Food Tours If you are looking for another kind of food tour or one that covers another area of the city, there are several paid options to choose from. While some outlets cover specific types of dishes such as street food, others provide a look at the best places to snack in the city centre, Testaccio, and many other places in Rome. Ticket prices range from 40 to 100 pounds, and some services are offered by small or private tour groups, so you get the full attention of your guide. Take a look at this list of paid Rome food tours to find one you like. FREE TOURS With TOURIST PASSES Tourist Pass (or City Pass) combines multiple tours and attractions into one discounted ticket or gives you discounted entry. If you are considering buying a tourist pass, keep in mind that some of them may come with free walking tours already included. Read our post on these aisles. FREE WALKING TOURS IN OTHER CITIES Enjoy free walking tours of other cities around the world with free foot tours and our recommended companies. Here are just a few of them. Few.