Where to eat & drinktotaltech4u2020-08-10T11:01:37-04:00 Sep 6, 2019 From fresh seafood to classic southern favorites, there's something to satisfy any hungry belly in South Carolina. Here are the top four restaurants in Florence to try this summer. Julia Belle's Restaurant This classic Southern restaurant at 2513 West Lucas Street is a casual, family-run restaurant that serves some of the region's most exquisite specialties. Located in an old mule barn at Pee Dee State Farmers Market, this venue uses only the freshest ingredients in its recipes. Serving unique menu items directly from the counter, there is nothing unusual in this place except the food. At Julia Belle's you can enjoy a real, down-to-earth culinary experience with fried or crab cake, a delicious Mayberry pork sandwich and lush seafood chowder. Don't forget the dessert. The key lime cheesecake and white Russian pecan cake are too tempting to resist. Tubb's Shrimp and Fish Company If you fancy fresh and local traditional seafood dishes with low land, there's only one place to go: Tubb's and Fish Company. Located at 1500 2nd Loop Road, enjoy large portions at reasonable prices. From steam buckets to shrimps and oyster combo plates, everything is cooked to perfection. Get your southern-style chicken and waffles with a sweet and spicy Sriracha honey sauce. It adds just the right amount of heat to make this dish a tasty combination of flavors. The crab soup is highly recommended, as is the popular seafood platter. Why not try The Hoppin' John? It is a brew of sausage, rice, tomatoes and black-eyed peas, all braised together with many strong spices. Victor's is located at 126 West Evans Street at Hotel Florence in the revitalised historic downtown, Victor's has been a local staple for over a decade. Enjoy steaks, wine and seafood and enjoy the best for lunch and dinner. Every culinary experience at Victor's offers an upscale menu served in a comfortable atmosphere, so come as you are. Start with the sesame tuna and then continue to the special one, which is roasted with panger-roasted black bass. The full-service bar opens daily at 11:00 .m. and the bartenders at Victor's Shake-up Craft cocktails throughout the night. LaBamba's Mexican Restaurant If you are surprised to see an authentic Mexican restaurant on our list, not. LaBamba's is a popular spot for delicious delicacies in Florence at 842 Woody Jones Boulevard. Discover the must-try menu with beef, nacho and chef LaBamba fajitas. Order your plate with a side of homemade guacamole. It's perhaps the best you've ever tasted. Whatever you want to eat, it is served by friendly staff in a warm and welcoming atmosphere. LaBamba's Mexican restaurant is the ideal joint for a relaxing dinner. The food is freshly prepared and surprisingly priced for such large portions of high-quality meat and seafood.
